ABOUT

Since 1982, Diane Orvis has delivered outstanding service to her clients and it shows. Her business has been primarily built on repeat and referred clients. With an advanced degree in psychology, she sees her role as a trusted real estate advisor much like being a counselor. She is seen as a savvy business owner and master negotiator. Few have the experience and longevity that Diane has had in the real estate industry. This is due much to her commitment to ongoing through education and keeping abreast of ever-changing real estate practices.
